

GEORGE SILVER of NETHERLEY was born on the 9th of March 1770 to Alexander Silver and Anne Silver “nee Burnett “ ..

George grew up to whole heartedly agree with his father , in their desire to greatly improve the quality and fertility of there vast estate . He became one of Scotlands great Agricultural Innovators in Land cultivation , Cattle Breeding , Grain production , and one of the most important scenarios “The Planting of vast numbers of Trees “

Although Muchalls Castle was not for sale , he purchased all its agricultural ground .

One of his many roles was as Convenor for the County of Kincardineshire , and as such was involved in a meeting which discussed (Rogue money and present system for Local Prosecutors)

His remarks were as follows !!

The present fiscals are at present renumerated by Fees or Allowances for the business “Actually performed by them “”

The only other method of Renumeration is by fixed salaries , the objection to which is that the fiscals would NOT in that case have the same inducement as at present to Vigilance and Activity in the performance of their Duty .. (Hmmm)

George Silver married Jane Smith of Netherley on the

And by her had the following children .
